The Safe Child Program

Who can keep your children safe?

They can.

The Safe Child Program

will teach you how to protect your children and, more importantly, how to teach them to protect themselves. It will give you a basic understanding of child abuse, and specific personal safety training skills, techniques and examples to use with your children. Other topics include children who stay alone, the "What if..." game, making exceptions to the rules, and what to do if your child is abused. Please plan to attend this important seminar and see the videotapes we'll be using in the program!

Basic Principles of Prevention

- Your body belongs to you.
- You have a right to say who touches you and how.
- If someone touches you in a way that you don't like, in a way that upsets you, that makes you feel uncomfortable, or that you think is wrong, it's okay to say "no."
- If the person doesn't stop, say, "I'm going to tell" and then tell.
- If you're asked to keep a secret, say, "No, I'm going to tell."
- If someone is hitting you so hard that it leaves marks that are there the next day, that's too much. You need to tell a grownup who will help you.
- If someone says things to you that make you feel really badly about yourself, and it keeps happening, you need to tell a grownup who can help you.
- Kids have a right to be taken care of. If you're not getting enough of the things you need to grow up strong and healthy, ask for help.
- If you have a problem, keep talking about it until someone helps you.
